

Love Is A Process

My father and my God, for me personally, love is a learned trait, it is one of the most important commodities to have in one's arsenal to defeat the evils of this world. I have come to believe that the most powerful tool the Godhead, through its mercy gives freely, is the power given by the Holy Spirit, to my spirit [a learned process] to forgive, and be forgiven.

If I am commanded in Your Word, to love unconditionally, I must come to grips with the concept that nothing else matters, unless I build my every action on love, to the point of denying my-self my personal rights. My right to be right, with the concept that I can be right but Spiritually "dead" right.

Father teach me to love beyond my-self, in order that I might be right in Your righteousness, to see love through Your mercy and forgiveness. Father teach me the power of love that forgives, and sees in every man the best quality of character that you want him to be elevated too, in order to build that trust of relationship that your Son may be glorified.

My son it is through the understanding of the power of love, that I have for My Son, that I have chosen to express the totality of love, through His atoning sacrifice, and His example of owing no man nothing but the debt of love. This love is in My righteousness that put death in its proper perspective. The death of My Son Jesus, was the beginning of your believing in faith, that man's corruptible sinful nature was a choice. The choice is to love My Son for the choice He made for you that you may no longer be tormented by the slavery and bondage of the carnal nature.

You are free to love, it cost you nothing, but yet it will cost you everything the world has to offer. My free gift to you is the power to forgive in and through the action of love. You have these tools of love, forgiveness, and repentance, represented in My Word, digests these tools daily, and My promise to you is you will not fail.

You see my son, failure is a relative term to man, in fact, failure in mans terms is inevitable in your soul's desire to serve the principles of My love. Your souls desire to love will be supported by the very Spirit sent by Jesus that will turn mans failure from death to life.

My agape love is a learned process, it is a tried and proven process, it is a process that purges, it is a process that is My righteousness, it is a process that builds My relationship, it is a process that molds My character in you, it is a process that is a metamorphous that illuminates the darkness in the souls, that see the Jesus in you.

I must become terminally unique through His love, which is alive to Christ in the Spirit for eternity or become terminally unique in the flesh/spirit for eternity. Dr. Douglas Kessner
